Alameda Plan
'Duplication'
Of Sunnyvale

Petition Asks Return
Of Airbase to Navy
For Development

Civic representatives of Palo Alto, San Jose, Sunnyvale and Mountain View have issued a plea for abandonment of the Alameda naval supply and heavier than air base project.

The appeal also urged return of Moffett Field at Sunnyvale to navy control and its development for full uses intended when the property was chosen by the government, the Associated Press reported.

"The Alameda proposal seems but a duplication of the Sunnyvale station," the statement said, "and we and all civic minded should get behind a movement for improvement of the Sunnyvale station."

The representatives said they would be willing to leave to ranking officials of the government and navy the decision "which of the two locations is best adapted for the navy."

Signers of the petition are R. W. Pederson, Sunnyvale; Frank E. Weaver, Mountain View; George B. Myers, San Jose; D. A. McCall, Palo Alto, and N. O. ...

COMMUNICATION GIVEN

The communication follows: "Most of us have been reading in the San Francisco newspapers, editorials relative to establishing an Alameda, along the bay shore, a naval supply and heavier-than-air base, and that 15 million dollars of federal funds is the amount to be spent for improvements. We also read of some very few persons favoring the project, chamber of commerce representatives, and editors of papers mostly, the general public not understanding or even interesting themselves in the matter."

"If the public is prone to act on mighty proposed projects, then it usually ends in the wish of the few being granted. However, it was not so in the case of establishing a lighter-than-air base, on the west coast of America, for those of us who took part in that selection know well of the lengthy battle that ensued, the locating of that lighter-than-air base at Sunnyvale, Central Pacific coast location, rather than at Camp Kearney, San Diego, near the Mexican border."

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

"After selection of the Sunnyvale site there was built thereon a huge hangar, helium plant, administration building, officers' homes, hospital, balloon hangar, barracks, and everything necessary to make one of the finest air stations in the world, at the cost of many millions of dollars. Then we remember of the loss of the Akron and Macon, of the partial transfer of the station to the United States Army, and on which base today but a skeleton crew is maintained. If admirals of the United States Navy sent to the west coast to locate a favorable site in 1929, chose Sunnyvale, and if these high officers gave us instructions to hold additional land under option, hoping in the near future to build on this land under option a naval heavier-than-air station, and they visioning the day the fleet would move into the lower bay, made possible by dredging, then at this time the wish of these officers, most competent to know, should be complied with."

"Regardless of anything to the contrary, and in the name of economy, this Alameda proposal should be stayed, and the improvement made at the Sunnyvale station."

"Knowing that your valued paper took an active part in helping to locate the dirigible base at Sunnyvale, we believe that as this base is not being operated by the navy, at the present time, we ask your co-operation that this base be taken back by the navy and again used by them as was originally intended by the donors."

"The Alameda proposal seems but a duplication of the Sunnyvale station, and we and any all civic minded, should get behind the movement of the improvement of the Sunnyvale station."

"As to the decision of which of the two locations are best adapted for the navy, we would be willing to leave that to ranking officials of our federal government and navy."

Night Flight

While twelve passengers sleep in berths as large as twin beds, this Mainliner Sleeper plane of United Air Lines flies from Pacific coast to New York in 15 hours 20 minutes, with only three stops. With two powerful 14-cylinder Wasp engines, the twelve-ton airliner cruises at a speed of 192 miles an hour using less than two-thirds of available horsepower. It has a range of 1500 miles. Passengers leaving one seaboard in the evening are on the opposite coast the next morning.

$25,650 R. C. PORT BUDGET APPROVED BY CITY COUNCIL

And Hohn to 'Too Elaborate' Plans

Over the opposition of Councilmen George W. McNulty and William Hohn, the city council Monday night approved a 1937-38 budget of $25,650 for the Port of Redwood City.

The dissenting councilmen protested that the budget drawn up by Port Manager Walter F. Murphy and approved by the port commission was "too elaborate."

McNulty voted no, while Hohn refused to vote. The majority councilmen, however, said they were of the opinion that the city's investment in the port must be protected by placing adequate equipment there. Of the $25,650 budget, only $4150 will be raised by taxes. The rest will come from the $15,500 provided for capital outlays in the $266,000 1936 bond issue, and from an estimated port revenue of $6000 for the first year.

3 CENTS OF RATE FOR PORT
This will mean that only 3 cents of the city's tax rate of $1.09.5 will go towards the port.

$5000 Asked to Aid
S.S.F. Road Project

Inclusion of $5000 in the county road budget for raising and improving 2500 feet of Linden avenue in South San Francisco has been requested of the board of supervisors by that city.

In a letter to the board from the city council, it was pointed out that Linden avenue was within the county system. A total of $9910 was estimated as total cost of the project, which would improve that section of the street lying 400 feet south of the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, the council's letter stated.

Benjamin was the first to use an electric cook stove.

Tire Blowout Causes Wreck in Burlingame

BURLINGAME, Aug. 13—Three peninsula socialites were disfigured, one seriously hurt, in a terrific crash on El Camino Real as a blown-out front tire caused their heavy sedan to crash into a eucalyptus tree.

Injured were Mrs. Sybil E. Thompson, driver, cut about the face and mouth, lacerated legs; Gwynn Thompson, severe bruises and ankle and leg lacerations, and Mrs. Anna Irwin, bruised eye, mouth cuts, broken ribs, and internal injuries.

All three gave their address as 1521 Vancouver avenue, Burlingame.

Stranded Yacht Party
Forced to Sleep
On Mud Flat

Three prominent Hillsborough socialites, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McCormick and William Costello, escaped unscathed from a night on a shell bank on Blair Island in the bay north of the mouth of Redwood Creek Monday, after private airplanes of friends and a Coast Guard cutter had searched all morning for them.

Stranded when their boat struck a mud bank about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the trio waded ashore to the island during low tide in an effort to reach mainland, not aware that the bank they were on was an island. After tramping around for some time, they found that it was impossible to get off the island, but were unable to return to the boat because the tide had risen.

Finding plenty of driftwood on the shell island, the three sailors built a bonfire, after darkness had fallen. They finally decided that the best thing to do would be to sleep until the tide, which was high at about midnight last night, had fallen again and given them an opportunity to get back on the boat.

SLEEP ON SHELLS

At 7:30 Monday they were able to get back on the boat, the 28-foot ketch "Pogood," after having slept fitfully on beds of bleached oyster shells. They had no food on the island, but they had left an abundant supply on the ketch when they waded ashore in the late afternoon.

At about 11:00 Monday the tide had risen sufficiently for them to shove the boat off, while a Coast Guard cutter, which had finally found them just as they were about able to leave, stood by in case help was needed.

The three mariners arrived back in Redwood City Yacht Harbor, whence they had left Sunday afternoon about 2:30, at 1:30 in quite cheerful moods, worried only that their friends might have had quains concerning their whereabouts. Particularly unperturbed was Mrs. McCormick, who joked freely with friends who arrived at the harbor.

WAS TO BE SHORT SAIL

The party almost didn't start in the first place, according to McCormick, who declared he had had trouble with the rudder of the craft before embarking. He and Costello had labored for more than an hour fixing the assembly, just early enough in the afternoon to leave on what was to be a short sail up the bay to the San Mateo Bay Bridge and back.

The McCormicks live at 1959 Parkside road, Hillsborough, where they returned shortly after they had gotten back to the Redwood City harbor. Costello resides at 14 South Humboldt street, San Mateo.

Horse racing netted Texas $485,000 in taxes and licenses during 1936.

Many Trophies
To Be Offered

The Redwood City Harbor Opening Festival parade committee held its first official meeting Sunday morning at the Lambert Realty office and Floyd D. Granger was selected as the parade chairman.

The parade is to be held Sunday, September 12, and will start promptly at 2 p.m.

All units and organizations participating will be assembled on streets entering Arguello st.

The line of march is to be over East Brewster to El Camino Real, along the east side of the highway to Broadway, down Broadway as far as Middlefield road, over Middlefield road to Main street, north on Main street to Broadway and south on Broadway to Chestnut.

At the conclusion of the parade the participants will continue to the port where the dedicatory ceremonies will take place at 4 p.m. Suitable trophies are to be offered for the best entries in the parade. Dead line on entering applications for the parade is to be September 1.

Granger, in announcing plans, said that parade entries could be made at the chamber of commerce office. There also may be left any suggestions for the parade, according to the chairman.

SEA SCOUT REGATTA PLANS REPORTED; REGISTRATION ON

Plans for the Fourth Annual Northern California Regional Sea Scout Regatta to be held in Redwood City September 4, 5 and 6 were announced Tuesday by Howard C. King, grounds and arrangements chairman of the San Mateo county council.

Registration of entries is now in full swing, with competition promised from such far-off points as Eureka and Salt Lake City, King disclosed.

Main event of Redwood City's biggest annual water show, which draws sea scouts from all over the west to participate in sailing races, special demonstrations, swimming relays, camp routine and conferences, will be the races on Sunday, from 1:30 to 5:45 p.m. at the yacht harbor.

VARIED EVENTS SET

Other events in the program cover all details of setting up, operating and abandoning camp during the three-day period. On Saturday, registration of participating units starts at 9 a.m. and continues until noon.

Arranging quarters and inspections follow after noon mess. At 4 o'clock swimming relays for all members are held. A formal assembly, dress uniform inspection and a parade and dance, scheduled from 7:30 to midnight, follow on the evening's program.

Sunday opens with reveille at 7 a.m. and church service from 9:15 to 10. Pulling races follow from 10 until 11:45.

After noon dinner, the main competition, which draws crowds of spectators to the harbor, is set at 1:30 o'clock.

'BRIDGE OF HONOR'

The Bridge of Honor, where awards, certificates and special prizes for the regatta sporting events are given out, is scheduled from 7:15 to 8 p.m.

On Monday, following breakfast from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m., camp is broken beginning at 9 o'clock after which a clean-up inspection of camp sites and bents concludes the affair.

The program will follow the general outline established in preceding years, although the Bridge of Honor is an innovation, supplanting the former Sunday evening campfire. Each ship, however, may conduct its own campfire program following the award ceremonies.

MOTHER, SON INJURED

A mother and son incurred minor bruises Wednesday in a two-car collision near Sharp Park. Raymond Kelly, 19, and Mrs. Gertrude Kelly, 37, his mother, both of Vallejo, were taken to Junipero Serra Hospital for treatment, and later released.

Trantow Wins Court Mercy

Ernest Trantow, 21, confessed check forger, was sentenced late Monday by Judge Caminetti Jr. acting in the absence of Superior Judge A. R. Cotton, to 90 days in the county jail and a five-year probationary period.

The former Redwood City high school athlete and Peninsula Athletic League diving champion will have to make good on the $145.50 worth of checks to which he forged his employer's name, Judge Caminetti ruled.

He has 18 months following completion of his 90-day sentence, 20 days of which he has served already, to pay back the sum to Edwin Sandberg, his former employer, proprietor of the North Redwood Millwork Company. Trantow was working as a millhand. He was arrested July 21.

BOWIE PROPERTY SOLD

A five-acre section of the Old Bowie estate located between holdings of Harriett Pullman Schermerhorn and Mrs. Jennie Crocker Henderson in Hillsborough has been sold to Lawton Fleishacker by the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company for $25,000, a deed on file in the office of County Recorder T. Clark Rice disclosed.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER GOES MODERN

EDITOR DESIGNS OWN RANCH "WAGON" — Here you see the modern version of the picturesque prairie schooner which used to rumble over western plains in '49. This motorized ranch "wagon," designed by John D. Dun, associate editor of The Toledo Times, was built on a Willys chassis. Miss Betty Dun, daughter of the editor, and a student at Wells college, is shown with her father wearing the true garb of the plains. Editor Dun has put the Willys ranch "wagon" into use at his Arizona ranch.

NEW HIGHWAY TO OPEN

On August 14, the new Feather River highway will be open to local and trans-continental travel.
According to state engineers, it was one of the most difficult pieces of road construction ever attempted in the United States.Of great scenic beauty, it traverses the North Fork of the Feather River, crossing bridges and passing through tunnels; opening up the splendid fishing, hunting and recreational areas of Plu-mas and Butte counties, and providing an all-year interstate highway to Reno across the Sierra, where snow removal is at a minimum.Decision Ends
Long Battle
On ValuationBoard Slices in Half
Variance in City, Utility FiguresClimaxing a long fight by the Redwood City City Council to learn the value of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company electric distribution system here, the state railroad commission Tuesday fixed the just compensation to be paid for the system at $488,000.The unanimous decision which followed extended hearings before Commissioner Frank R. Devlin found that the fair value of the property and rights described in the February 9, 1935, petition of Redwood City, to be $370,000, and that damages to the remainder of the property and rights of the utility after severing the Redwood City distribution system would be $118,000 in addition.The city had asked that the just compensation be fixed at $378,467, of which they allowed $320,425 as the value of the property and $58,- 042 as severance damages. The company asked a value of $608,883, of which $430,000 would be for the property alone, and $178,883 for severance.

The railroad commission's figure was approximately $11,000 closer to Redwood City's estimate than the utility's but the official valuation just about divided in half the difference between the city's figure and those of the utility.Knowledge of the commission's official valuation of the utility is the first step towards municipal ownership, which is a question that has long split the council.If the Pacific Gas & Electric Company and the city both accept the valuation and do not carry the issue to the courts, the city would be enabled to purchase the distribution system if authorized to do so, through the approval by the electorate of a bond issue.Whether this bond issue could be revenue bonds will not be known until after the referendum to be held next fall on the Garrison bill, drawn by Mayor Paul A. McCarthy and approved by both houses and the governor but forced to a vote by a petition movement.

COUNCIL SPLIT

The question of municipal ownership of the electric system in votes three years ago saw Councilmembers Evans A. Fletcher, James M. Eva and Louis C. Christensen in opposition, while Councilmen
George W. McNulty and Robert N.New Pipeline

resentatives of the California Water Service Company conducted an inspection of the Utility's new 17,000-foot pipeline and projected water treatment plant at the Bear Gulch reservoir Saturday afternoon.Guided by A. F. Poulter, superintendent for the water company in Menlo Park and Atherton, and J.
A. Wade, chief engineer of the water company, the party followed the route of the new 16-inch pipe from the railway depot on Fair Oaks lane in Atherton to the reservoir.Corrosive-resistant properties of the new type of pipe used in the line were described by Wade. The pipe is spiral-welded steel, coated on the inside with cement and covered with a protective jacket of non-metallic material.Hetch Hetchy water from the proposed Redwood City-Palo Alto line will be drawn through the new pipe to a mixing chamber at the reservoir where Hetch Hetchy water and the aerated, chlorinated, ammoniated and filtered product from Bear Gulch will be combined and fed into the company's distribution lines.Members of the inspection party besides Wade and Poulter were E.
B. Walthall, vice president of the California Water Service Company,
Mayor J. A. Donohoe of Atherton, Councilmen C. H. Merrill and C.
R. Walters, City Judge G. E. Jennings, City Engineer James S.
James and City Clerk Thomas G.
Packham.Pajamas, Mohammedan in origin, were worn in India centuries ago.Jones have voted favorably toward moves leading to such ownership. Mayor McCarthy is an enthusiastic supporter of public ownership, and in view of this situation, it would appear that Councilmember William Hohn would have the deciding vote should the question now be thrashed out by the council.Total cost of securing the commission's opinion has been $10,000, including $6500 expended by the city for a survey of the utility property by railroad commission engineers, and $1500 for the services of Carl A. Heinze of Los Angeles, utility expert, who testified for the city before the railroad commission and made the city's valuation of the utility system.The commission's opinion declared that their study produced evidence that the utility property
"in the hands of a competent operator," would continue to be a profitable going business.R.C. Strikers, jobs in the Redwood City Plant Rubber and Asbestos Works today, following a vote to return to work Tuesday night. The 60-odd members of the Committee for Industrial Organization union that went on strike last Friday won pay increases averaging $1 apiece, union spokesmen said.Few details of the agreement which ended the peaceful strike caused by asserted violation of the men's seniority rights were disclosed by Plant Manager S. A.

Abrahams, but he maintained further negotiations are pending.

TWO MEN REHIRED

Two men, whom union members held had been fired in violation of prior agreements, also were back at work, Abrahams said. The company has claimed that neither of the men ever had been fired and that the dispute arose over a "misunderstanding.""Everything at the plant is perfectly normal—just as it was before the walk-out," Abrahams concluded.Union leaders claimed they had effected a substantial victory, however, with the employers agreeing to their requests for "generally better working conditions and higher wages." The plant operated on a 40-hour week for a long time.Trails Group
To Hold MeetThree separate plans for a composite mission-type building as San Mateo's and seven other counties' joint display at the Golden Gate Exposition in San Francisco for 1939 will be submitted Saturday to exposition officials at a meeting in San Francisco.Sketches will reveal the details of the structure designed to provide a minimum of 25,000 square feet of space. They have been drawn up by the California Mission Trails Association, of which San Mateo county is a member.Supervisor Fred E. Beer of San Carlos will represent the county at the meeting, which is expected to bring representatives from the other Mission Trails counties, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura.

$50,000,000 UNDERTAKING

The project will play a prominent part among the exhibit structures now rising in the shadow of the bay bridges to form the World's Fair on San Francisco Bay—a $50,000,000 undertaking, according to C. M. C. Raymond, general manager of the association.Early this year, the California Mission Trails Association urged "group participation" as against individual county representation because it would permit of a better exhibit, each county getting the benefit of a collective general fund, and for half the cost, Raymond said.Six separate meetings have been held at Santa Barbara, Sacramento, Santa Maria, San Jose, Salinas and San Francisco since March 7, attended by officials of the association, boards of supervisors, state senators and assemblimen from the Mission Trails counties, and exposition representatives.JOINT PROSPECT FAVORED
The next result shows that all of the counties in the area favor "joint participation" as against individual exhibits, that seven of the eight counties have either levied, or committed themselves to a fixed tax levy this year, thereby creating an exhibit fund for a Mission Trails exhibit at the San Francisco Exposition, and finally, that all the Mission Trails counties are uncompromisingly committed to the "group plan" of exhibit buildings.San Mateo county has set aside a tentative figure of $23,500 this year to be raised by a two-cent
levy on the tax rate.Kaech, Belmont Baker, Dies in S. M. HospitalJohn Kaech, native of Switzerland, and a resident of Belmont for the past 31 years, died at a San Mateo hospital Monday after a long illness.A retired baker, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Phoebe A. Kaech.
Funeral services, to be presided over by Rev. Schuyler Pratt, pastor of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Redwood City, will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Layng and Tinney Funeral Home. Interment will follow at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Lawndale.

WATER DISTRICT ASKED

Another petition for formation of a water district was on file with the board of supervisors today. Forty residents of Vallemar have signed the petition. The district would seek eventual use of Hetch Hetchy water, but temporarily would rely on springs and its own supply.Marshall at Work On Sanitary DistrictThe county engineer's office is working on preliminary plans and estimates for construction of sanitary sewers in the Emerald Lake district back of Redwood City. Engineer U. S. Marshall revealed Wednesday.At the close of the World War
the British flying corps had 30,000 officers and 22,000 planes.At present, Emerald Lake has no sewer system, he pointed out, but depends upon septic tanks which are causing considerable discomfort and trouble to residents in the area. Federal aid will be sought for the improvements.

MENLO PARK NEWS

The recent death of Judge Matthew I. Sullivan in San Francisco will recall the memory of his sister, the late Miss Nora Sullivan, the first teacher in Menlo Park. Some time after the Church of the Nativity was dedicated in the early seventies a parochial school was established in the rear of the building and Miss Sullivan was placed in charge by Father Dempsey. The church was then located in Menlo Oaks on the corner of the tract facing Middlefield road. When the grammar school was started the old institution closed and Miss Sullivan was appointed to a position in the San Francisco school department.

She passed away a few years ago after a long and successful career in the department. Only a few survive the days when the old school flourished. The late James C. Flood bought the large holding and had the church moved to its present site. Father Spreckels was the first resident pastor of the church on its new location.

Next Tuesday the election for the formation of a water district takes place. Polls will be at the Central School and those residing within the boundaries of the municipality may vote. Those opposing the election have offices in the Murray Building and the advocates of the formation of the district are holding forth in the Maloney Building. The election promises to be hotly contested.

The horse show at the Menlo Circus Club is drawing large crowds. The attendance this year is greater than ever in the history of the club.

John Welsh is enjoying his vacation with his son, Jack, in Northern California and Southern Oregon. Mr. Welsh is an executive of the Bank of America, San Francisco.

For some time the City of San Francisco has had a number of men uprooting shrubbery and small trees in the Flood and Nickel holdings to be replanted in the fair ground at Yerba Buena. Only the surplus growth is removed. From Portola good sized oak trees are being removed to the fair grounds. The trees and shrubbery for the forest display will come from San Mateo county.

Mrs. Gene Crane enjoyed a visit from her son, Howard, his wife and daughter, Helen, last week. They have returned to their home in Long Beach.

Delegates to the state convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary returned to their homes today.

Mrs. Catherine Derry is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Derry, in La Honda.

A party of local Native Daughters of the Golden West attended the official visit of Grand President Ethel Begley to El Monte Parlor in Mountain View Friday night.

At an informal barbecue luncheon given Saturday afternoon at the Menlo Park home that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rapp, are occupying for the summer, the betrothal of Miss Joan Rapp and Clarence Mayhew was revealed to a group of intimate friends of the bride-elect.

Corsages of button dahlias, talliesman roses and pansies given each guest by Miss Rapp's young nephew, Kenneth Scott, continued the announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bearce and their son, Paul, have returned to Menlo Park after a six-week motor trip which took them into almost every state in the union and up into Canada. The tour was a graduation present for Paul Bearce, who received his degree in June from San Jose State College. Relatives were visited in New England and Minnesota.

Eighth Teacher Joins Faculty in San Carlos

SAN CARLOS, Aug. 13 — Miss Elizabeth Maffei will be the newly appointed eighth member of the faculty when the San Carlos Central School opens August 30.

Miss Maffei, a South San Franciscan, has been assigned the kindergarten class. The class will be resumed after several years, as a result of a decision reached by the local school board and approval of Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county school superintendent. Parents of San Carlos children of kindergarten age supported a petition for the reopening of the kindergarten class.

When school opens, two new classrooms will be available. Work modeling of the auditorium, according to Principal Byron W. Case.

Other teachers on the faculty include Miss Ruth Heiner, Miss Edith Stewart, Mrs. Edward Tuitt, Mrs. Walter Bachman, Mrs. Carl J. Zeh and Mrs. Anita M. Kunze. As part of the annual clean-up program, exterior and interior painting will be done before the opening of the fall term.

An Ohlson obtained from Panama the right for the U. S. to build the Panama canal.

$25,000 Corner Property Sold On 101 Highway

Sale for $25,000 of a piece of property at the corner of El Camino Real and Brewster avenue was reported Wednesday.

Purchaser of the land at 701-703, 705 El Camino Real through the San Mateo County Realty Company and H. H. Weiner was Mrs. L. Creason, who plans to modernize the property, according to Weiner.

The property includes three store buildings and a vacant lot. It is located on the southeast corner of the intersection.

Weiner also reported the sale of $50,000 in homes in the last 30 days. The following properties

Burlingame Adopts Budget of $262,393

BURLINGAME, Aug. 13 — Confidence of Burlingame residents in the financial abilities of the city council was confidently expressed here when none appeared to comment or criticize at the public hearing on the proposed $262,393 budget.

Although the budget of $262,393.75 is the highest in the city's history, the tax rate fell to a new low—dropping to $1.34, two cents below last year's figures.

Daly City Lad Shot Girl, Probe Reveals

DALY CITY, Aug. 13—The death of Alice Foss, 17, of San Francisco, killed during a hunting trip Friday, has been blamed on a shot fired accidentally by Bernard McDermott, 12, of Daly City, following yesterday's investigation by Dist. Atty. F. C. Cloudsley of San Joaquin county.

The girl was out rabbit-hunting near Tracy with young McDermott when Miss Foss declared she was tired and lay down by a tree to rest. McDermott went on hunting and shot, according to the testimony, at a dove in line with the spot where Miss Foss lay.

The shooting was declared accidental and no charges were lodged against the boy.

A TIP TO JUNE BRIDES

You Got Your Man

In June, the Month of Brides, getting your man is not so difficult, for the woods and deserts are full of fatuous young fellows all primed and wanting to leap into the bonds of matrimony. And in the Spring, when a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, a pretty face, a romantic spot, and a little moonlight will break down the most hardened bachelor's sales resistance. However—

Keep Your Man

Keeping your man is another story, good looks win in the courtship days, but good food wins the love that stays. Peninsula Stores have the foods and meats that will send friend husband striding out to meet the tasks of the day with a smile on his face that won't come off... and we make the following proposition: That after you serve him meat from the Peninsula Stores, he will love you in December as he did in May!

Milk War Threat Ends As Rolison Splits Business

A peaceful solution whereby both the Witt and Millbrae dairies will share the $1,000-per-month county milk business was worked out Wed. by County Executive E. A. Rolison in co-operation with former Supervisor Albert Witt Jr. and the Millbrae company.

The compromise brought an end to what threatened to be a "milk war" between the dairy companies, and also left Witt "satisfied" after he had protested Monday Rolison's previous order to purchasing Agent Stanley Kelly to reject bids of eight companies and call for new ones.

Rolison also was pleased with the solution. "It will save the county money," he pointed out. Figures disclosed that by giving the contracts for those units in which the companies bid the lower, the Witt Dairy will gain approximately 60 per cent of the business, the remainder going to the Millbrae Dairy, for a total saving of more than $30 per month over the original total lowest bid.

Witt will furnish milk to the Community Hospital and county relief home, while the Millbrae firm will handle all milk for the social service and juvenile home and cream and buttermilk for the community hospital and relief home.

Witt's business will amount to $635.74 and Millbrae's $382.07 on the basis of computations made from totals consumed in the county during July this year.

The former Colma supervisor, defeated in November by Board Chairman Hugh H. Smith, denied today that he had an argument at any time with Rolison. He said he was more than satisfied with the compromise.

As a sidelight to the incident Witt said that since leaving the supervisor's job, he has lost 60 pounds.

"I never felt better in my life since I quit politics," he declared. "Why should I ever run for office again?"

Three of the scores of buildings to be constructed on Treasure Island will not be razed when the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition is ended. They are the two giant hangars and the airport terminal building, for the site of the exposition will revert to an air field at the conclusion of the Pageant of the Pacific.

ONLY a pitiful remnant of the once glorious ranks of sea-otters is left today. The coastline of the west, from California to Kamchatka, was the home of millions of these animals, but their fur was too beautiful. In 1785 a sea-otter fur sold for seven dollars. Today, when they can be had at all, they command prices of several thousand dollars apiece.

The survey department of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, on the basis of 1936 statistics, figures that tourists will spend $1,000,000,000 in the eleven western states in 1939.

The stretch of road included in the plans lies between two improved sections and is the most expensive and difficult piece to rebuild, the engineer declared. It lies west of the Skyline. Marshall said bids will be opened shortly and construction begun as soon as possible.

County to Draw $35,000 Donation For Road Repair

County Engineer U. S. Marshall disclosed Wed. that state approval has been given to projected $60,000 improvements on an uncompleted section of the La Honda road.

Funds will be contributed 58 per cent, or $35,000, by the national government under the farm-to-market plan and 42 per cent by the county, as provided in the 1937-38 road budget pending before the board of supervisors.

Plans and specifications must be submitted, however, Marshall

Life-Preserving Gag of Woodside Killer Exploded

Further confirmation that Ralph Jerome Selz' mythical Bulgarian army officer, Michael Baronovich, never existed came Tuesday from Selz in his San Quentin prison cell. Selz was reported in a San Francisco newspaper to have notified San Mateo county authorities "officially" that he was ending the long-standing "gag" but local sheriff's officers knew nothing of the report and said Selz' "gag" was ended a year ago when the killer told Deputy Sheriff Thomas Maloney and others that there was no such person as the invented army officer, whom he was supposed to have killed and then thrown into the bay from the San Mateo bay bridge.

The emancipation proclamation is in the new Archives building at Washington.

Atherton's Tax Rate May Be Cut As Valuation Up

ATHERTON, Aug. 13—Because of a $180,000 increase in the assessed valuation of the City of Atherton, a one cent reduction in the tax rate is in prospect as the city council ponders the 1937-38 budget.

An ordinance fixing the amount necessary to be raised by taxation to meet ordinary expenditures of government and to meet obligations of the city's bonded indebtedness was introduced before the council Tuesday afternoon. Ordinary expenditures were budgeted $22,064.42 and the amount fixed for payment on bonded indebtedness was set at $1,438.98 in the ordinance.

City officials concluded that this year's tax rate will be based upon the .46 rate in effect for 1936-37, with a reduction of one cent anticipated in the bonded indebtedness rate of four cents.

Atherton's taxable property is assessed at $4,987,030, of which $4,760,410 represents real property and improvements and taxable per-

R. C. Moose Lodge Joins Harbor Fete Rowing Race List

Redwood City's Moose lodge announced Tuesday that it will take up the challenge of the Lions Club in the whaleboat race that is to be a feature of the Harbor Opening Festival September 10, 11 and 12.

Raymond Parker, dictator of the local lodge, announced that the organization would enter a team of "Swedes" in the race.

The American Legion also has accepted the Lions' challenge to all-comers.

The Moose, at a meeting last night, decided to enter several floats in the festival parade and to lend the entire support of the lodge to promotion of the celebration.

The South Carolina penitentiary board seeks legislation for a separate woman's prison.

sonal property. The remainder, $226,620, is operating property of public utilities.

The council will meet again to consider the tax rate and budget August 18.

Cough Prevalence Reported in County
Occurrence of seven cases of whooping cough, three in Redwood City, three in San Mateo and one in Menlo Park, gave an indication here that the Santa Clara county whooping cough epidemic may be spreading into San Mateo county. Otherwise Redwood City's health record was clean during the past week, according to the weekly morbidity report of Dr. Charles C. Gans, county health director.

Love Gets a Lift

BY IDA RINER GLEASON

Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER I

KATHLEEN O'SHAN, head tossed back to face a sudden summer breeze, ran up the flight of rough stone steps to her studio, and butted smack into the janitor, who was sweeping.

"Oh Pat, I'm sorry!" she exclaimed. "Did I hurt you?"

"Ye didn't damage a thing, Miss Kathy, but me smoke." A smile wreathed the little man's ruddy, dried-apple face. He retrieved his stubby pipe from the grass beside the walk. "A washin' won't be hurtin' it now, I'm thinkin'."

Got a lot o' rhymes to write today? Ye seem in a great hurry." His shrewd squinting eyes noted her strained frown.

"Yes, I've got to write a lot whether I have them or not. That rent's almost due again you know, but it's awfully hard to think about love this kind of weather."

She pulled off her beret and let the wind whip her black curls as though it might bring her an idea.

"Sure now, Miss Kathy, it's the good salts 'themselves will be havin' ye under their care. Don't ye be worryin' yer pretty head none." He grasped the broom and attacked the steps as though he were disposing of all earthly cares.

But after the door closed behind the girl, he stood in deep thought for a moment, his thick finger tapping down the tobacco in his pipe. Then he shook his head worriedly and glanced at Kathleen's window where he could see her already bending over her desk.

"It's too young she is to be fightin' against the world all alone. Them little rhymes she writes don't pay any more than enough to keep body and soul together. I wish—"

His thoughts were interrupted by a high-pitched voice above his head, as a young woman, with an amazing shock of fuzzy platinum blond hair, leaned from a window.

"Patrick, I want you to come up and move my couch. I just can't abide it where it is! My nerves are all a-jangle looking at that north wall. Hurry!"

"Sure, and I'll be tearin' me shirt now, Miss, to git there," answered the janitor soberly. Then as the window banged shut, he shrugged and leisurely went back to this sweeping.

When the upstairs window was jerked open again, Pat finally dropped his broom and stumped up the steps. He knocked on the door of the studio directly above Kathleen's.

"You certainly took your time, Patrick," the Duchess addressed him in a scathing tone as she let him in. She pointed a long amber cigarette holder at him accusingly. She was dressed in black satin pajamas topped by a gold embroidered Mandarin coat. This made her unnaturally light hair and hard young face look especially artificial.

She pulled off her beret and let the wind whip her black curls. Her blue eyes with their long curling lashes gave her an appealing look.

Pat gave her a quizzical grin. "Sure, Miss, it's meself now who's seen the time when I'd bounce right up if the girls called, but I ain't as spry as I used ter be."

Where ye think ye'd be wantin' that couch?" He looked disdainfully about the huge cluttered room. It had been the ballroom of the old mansion, that was now the studio apartment house. Except for one small studio, it extended across the entire top floor.

THE Duchess went in for surrealistic painting on an extensive scale. Fantastic canvases lined the walls and leaned at all angles against odd pieces of furniture.

"It's a big pain in me neck," is the way Pat had described the studio to Kathleen once. "And the same goes for that gurl and her rummy friends. Watch yer step now, Miss Kathy, around her. She aint for the likes o' ye."

"Oh I'm much too busy during the day to have time to get very well acquainted with the people who have studios in the house," Kathleen told him. "Besides, they all go home at night, so I never have a chance to be very friendly with them. Sometimes I think it would be nice to have someone to talk to. It wouldn't be so lonesome and, well—it's kind of scary staying alone in the building. It's so old it creeps. Often I imagine I can hear footsteps upstairs, when I know it's empty."

But after that conversation, Pat had moved a cot into the basement storage room for himself, instead of staying at his brother's rooming house, where all his old cronies were wont to gather.

"The owner thinks 'tain't safe to be lavin' the place so unoccupied at night," he explained to Kathleen. "So if ye hear any tromplin' around from now on, it's me." He did not add that he had never spoken to the owner of the building in all the time he had worked there, but dealt entirely with his agent, who rarely bothered his head about anything. If he could only find some nice young fellow for her to date, he would have felt better satisfied yet, but so far, none of the tenants of the building had come up to his standard.

KATHLEEN, herself, was entirely unconscious of the anxiety she was causing her Irish friend. He was very careful to be always quite casual and unconcerned when he was talking with her. She would have been surprised to know why he so anxiously scrutinized every new tenant who moved in.

Then the very small studio across from the Duchess's big one was taken. Kathleen realized this first when she saw a black and white terrier go pelting past her up the stairs, and heard him scratch at a door which was promptly opened for him. Soon a typewriter, a steel filing cabinet and a big table were carried in. These seemed to belong to a tall, young man, with fair hair and nice upturned smile, who addressed the dog as Schmatz.

Kathleen became quite absorbed watching the moving from her window, wondering who he could be and what kind of work he did. "I'll ask Pat the first time I see him," she promised herself and turned back to her desk.

Pat himself lost no time looking over the tenant. "About that dog now," he began. "I don't know what the agent will say."

"Why bother to tell him? What he doesn't know won't worry him," the young man answered with a grin. "I'll promise good behavior—no barks on the part of Schmatz. The little rascal's lots of company for me. I don't know anybody here. I've just come to the city you know. You wouldn't make me get rid of him would you?"

Pat decided he liked his friendly manner. "Well, we'll be tryin' the pup out," he promised, leaning over to rub the dog's ears.

"What'd ye say yer name was now, Mr.—Mr.—"

"McTavish, Bob McTavish. I write detective yarns for a living."

"Oh ye do." Pat carefully filled his pipe while he reflected how well the stranger's fair hair would go with Kathleen's black curls. What a fine lookin' couple they'd be makin' now.

He wrote detective yarns for a living. "I suppose ye wouldn't be mindin' 'meetin' some other writers then?"

"Well I don't know," Bob told him doubtfully. "Why?"

"Jist wonderin'." One of Pat's eyes closed to shut out the cloud of smoke that wreathed upward from his pipe.

Louis Lodi Wins Deputy Sheriff Post of Glennan

Appointment of Louis F. Lodi, Redwood City fireman, to the post of deputy sheriff to replace the late Floyd ("Pansy") Glennan was announced Monday by Sheriff James J. McGrath.

Lodi's appointment became effective August 1, when he officially took over the position of jailer. Lodi is a native of Woodside.

His father, Caesar Lodi, is living, but his mother passed away more than 25 years ago.

SEQUOIA GRADUATE
He attended Sequoia high school until 1923, when he went into business for himself. For a time he was partner in the Brown and Lodi Tire Shop, and later joined the Main and Middlefield service station with Fred McKay.

Council Votes To Buy Land Near to Port

Annexed Area's Rate To Be $1.092; South Redwood, $0.957

To meet a budget of $230,898.51 in the 1937-38 fiscal year, the city council Monday night fixed tax rates that set an all-time low for Redwood City both as to the amount of the levy and the cost of operating the municipal government.

The rates: Old Town $1.095 Annexed Territory 1.092 South Redwood, Carmelita Manoir 0.957 The Old Town rate, generally used for comparative purposes, is 2.3 cents lower than last year's figure of $1.118.

1933 NEXT BEST Mayor Paul McCarthy pointed out that of the $1.095 levy, only $0.535 would go to operating expenses of the city. This is the lowest in the city's history, the fiscal year of 1933-34 with a cost of $0.65 cents having been the next most economical period.

Last year's tax rate of $1.118 per $100 of assessed valuation was also the lowest levy to date, indicating a steadily decreasing cost of government. Changes made by the council at last night's final hearing on the budget included the addition of 6 cents to the rate to accumulate $7500 to be available for purchase of 10 acres of land on which the city has an option adjacent to the new port.

This option is up next July 1, and under the present plan half of the $15,000 cost will be provided in this year's budget while the rest would be taken care of next year.

PORT BUDGET CUT One of the major reductions made included the cutting of $4200 from the $29,850 budget requests made by Port Manager Walter F. Murphy with the approval of the port commission. A detailed study of the port budget is given in an adjoining column.

The Old Town included all the land east of El Camino Real. Annexed territory comprises the Redwood Highlands and all property west of El Camino Real. South Redwood is the land from the old Hawes ranch south, taking in the Woodside road district, while Carmelita Manoir is the Eaton avenue sector.

Tax levies in other recent years were: 1935-36, $1.15, and in 1934-35, $1.18.

SUMMARY GIVEN A summary of the budget appropriations reveals the following:

General government, $11,273.56; city manager, $3475; city clerk and treasurer, $5065; city collector and assessor, $6247; city engineer, $1720; city attorney, $3080; police judge, $1732; police department, $31,015; street department, $14,125; municipal buildings, $450; public pound, $2600; corporation yard, $1850; fire department, $28,038; building and health, $3000; sewer department, $2200; parks and recreation, $12,100; electrical department, $17,585; yacht harbor, $2404; and paint shop, $578.

This gives a total of $148,517.56 as required for general purposes.

Required for special purposes: interest and redemption of bonds, $48,680.95; public library, $14,250; unbudgeted reserve, $5200; WPA projects, $2800; harbor, $1450; and purchase of land, $7500.

The special purpose budget of $82,380.95 plus the general purpose figure of $148,517.56 gives the total appropriation of $230,898.51 for the city's budget.

Anticipated revenues are listed as follows in the budget drawn by City Manager Charles Dimmitt and approved by the council:

General tax levy, $57,616.71; cash and bonds on hand July 1, 1937, $35,255.20; business licenses, $11,000; delinquent taxes, $10,000; water department interest and redemption of bonds, $3,145.65; personal property tax, $2000; tax penalties, $2000; interest from money on deposit, $1000; interest from bonds, $500; garbage collection, $2200; police court fines, $5000; yacht harbor rentals, $1800; pound fees, $1000; building, plumbing and electrical fees, $3000; birth and death fees, $100; liquor revenues, $6000; in lieu tax, $5000; miscel-

P. A. Boy Runaways Returned to Parents

PAOLO ALTO, Aug. 13.—Two juvenile runaways, James Hoffman, 12, and his brother Carl, 8, of Palo Alto, were returned Wed. to the family home at 881 Lytton avenue after having been found by a night watchman at the municipal pier on the Marina in San Francisco.

The boys left home last Friday. They escaped from the bedroom from which the older boy had been confined for making an unannounced trip to San Francisco the day before.

The boys said they had hitchhiked to San Francisco, spending the first night in a haystack near Redwood City. In San Francisco they tramped the streets selling candy they had purchased wholesale with money the older boy had accumulated.

CATHERINE KOESSEL DIES BURLINGAME, Aug. 11.—Suffering from a lingering illness Mrs. Catherine Koessel, Burlingame, succumbed at her home early today. She was the wife of William H. Koessel, manufacturing agent. They have two daughters and three sons. Funeral services will be held Friday at 9 a.m. from the William Crosby Mortuary, Burlingame.

lanaceous revenues, $1500.

FOR GENERAL PURPOSES These figures give a total of $148,517.56 available for general purposes.

Available for special purposes: Interest and redemption of bonds, $48,680.95; public library, $14,250; unbudgeted reserve, $5200; WPA projects, $2800; harbor development and operation, $1450; purchase of harbor land, $7500. This gives the required total of $230,898.51.

The Old Town tax levy of $1.095 breaks down as follows, with the other rates identical, except for the absence of varying amounts of utility bonds: General operating funds, $0.445; electric bonds (1900), $0.003; water and street bonds (1904), $0.027; city hall bonds (1910), $0.015; street works bonds (1912), $0.010; bridges (1919), $0.065; water, sewer bonds (1923), $0.028; harbor bonds (1929), $0.034; bridges and culverts (1930), $0.034; harbor (1936), $0.084; refunding (1936), $0.10; library maintenance, $0.11; unbudgeted reserve, $0.040; WPA projects, $0.020; and harbor development and operation, $0.03; and purchase of harbor land, $0.06.

LIGOURI SALARY CUT

One of the other changes made in the budget included the reduction of the $225 monthly salary of A. S. Ligouri, superintendent of the city water department, to $200 per month, upon motion of Councilman Hohn and second of Councilman Fletcher. Ligouri also receives free rent.

The cut was made because the superintendent's duties and responsibility have been considerably lessened since Redwood City has secured San Francisco water, and is not having to pump its own.

Dimmitt recommended that the council consider several capital improvements, including construction of a new water pipeline on Whipple road to serve the White Oaks district and thus relieve the burden in the Edgewood Park district, where recently there have been numerous complaints about the lack of water pressure.

The city's assessed valuation was announced as $12,760,320, which with the value of utilities, estimated at about $1,672,800, brings the total value to $13,433,210, according to Dimmitt.

Prior to the council meeting, a slide picture of "The City of Tomorrow," demonstrating how traffic will be handled in the cities of the future, was put on for the council and the city planning commission by the Shell Oil Company.

MOFFETT FIELD NAVY BASE MOVE HELPED BY OLD CORRESPONDENCE

Out of the past has come support for the present move to bring all or part of a $28,500,000 federal appropriation for a naval supply base and heavier-than-air station to Moffett Field at Sunnyvale.

High naval opinions handed down in 1929 have been dragged out of dusty files to support proponents of the new move to prove that originally the navy also had a heavier-than-air base and a supply depot in mind for the Sunnyvale location.

Original backers of the Sunnyvale site were instructed as long ago as 1929 "to obtain options on channel and waterway lying north of their airbase site and as far east as possible" in the words of Admiral Joseph Reeves, who went on to say that, "This site would make a splendid heavier-than-air station. I vision the day when the fleet will come into the lower bay and the planes from the carriers fly onto this field."

Statements of the late Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, for whom the field was named, have also been revived. Letters of Congressman John J. McGrath, who has led the fight for a thorough study of all sites available in face of heavy fire from the favored Alameda site supporters, are also being used by Sunnyvale supporters to bring the problem up to date.

Frank B. Weaver of Mountain View and R. W. Pederson of Sunnyvale, instigators of the present fight, also cited a letter of the San Francisco junior chamber of commerce, which stated "There is at the next meeting in September:

Recreation Area For San Carlos Studied By Club

SAN CARLOS, Aug. 13.—A 16-acre tract of land between Highland and Sheldor avenues, accessible on the east from Phelps road, and on the west from Sheldor avenue, is a desirable location for a community recreation park, the North San Carlos Improvement Association decided at a meeting Tuesday night.

This property is owned by the Sierra Realty Corporation, and they have made an offer of it to the city for the taxes due.

According to D. W. Batesole, president of the improvement organization, and L. L. Ingram, secretary-treasurer, the possibilities are good for the development of an attractive and restricted recreation center.

A club committee will meet soon to discuss advisability of extending membership in the association to residents outside of the Devonshire District. They will report on the matter at the next meeting in September.

CLUB SEEKS PERMIT BAR IN EAST P. A.

Aroused By Increase Of Reports, Group Turns to Board

Control over liquor sales, incorporation, and further traffic restrictions on the Bayshore highway are three important issues which East Palo Alto residents will be called upon to decide at a public meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock this evening at the Ravenswood School auditorium.

Aroused by the sudden increase in the number of highway establishments selling beer, wine and hard liquors in the East Palo Alto area, residents were circulating petitions today requesting the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors to recommend to the state board of equalization that no new liquor permits be issued to Bayshore highway resorts between Willow road and the Santa Clara county boundary line.

A resolution passed yesterday by the East Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce pointed out that 13 new liquor permits have been issued in recent months and that these, "with many more applications pending," are creating resorts which are bringing "undesirable elements" into the community.

A. Groves, chairman of the chamber of commerce, said that Friday's mass meeting will be preceded by a five-act vaudeville show to which the public is invited. There will be no charge.

9 Persons Hurt In Car Crashes Over Week-end

Nine persons were injured in San Mateo county in a series of week-end accidents caused chiefly by heavy traffic, highway patrolmen and police reported today. There were no fatalities.

A Bayshore accident near the Chestnut st. intersection Monday morning brought injury to Wallie Wolfe, seamstress at the Veterans Administration Facility, residing at 436 Florence street, Palo Alto. Her car was struck by another operated by H. S. Jopling, 27, of Refugio, Tex., according to police. Miss Wolfe was taken to the Palo Alto Hospital after treatment by Dr. H. A. Clattenburg for severe face and scalp lacerations. She was attempting to make a U-turn on the highway, she explained.

GIRL, 8, CUT

An 8-year-old San Francisco girl, Clara Brown, had several stitches taken in her forehead following a rear-end crash between a passenger car and a truck on the Bayshore highway near Friendly Acres Sunday night. Her father, Sam Brown, 40, was driver of the car, and Morris H. Berman, 36, San Francisco, operator of the truck. The girl was treated at Palo Alto Hospital.

Mrs. Ida Keen, 45, San Francisco, incurred slight concussion of the head and cuts on her right leg when the machines of her husband, Eli Keen, 55, and Paul Thompson, 28, San Francisco, collided in a Sunday traffic jam on El Camino Real south of the Junipero Serra boulevard intersection. She was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital, where she remained over Sunday night.

CAR OVERTURNS

Edwin J. Roussey, 34, of Burlingame, incurred head cuts when his car collided with one driven by Walter Caffrey, 27, San Francisco. The accident happened Sunday night at the Junipero Serra and Salada Beach road intersection. Caffrey's car overturned, bringing severe scalp lacerations to his passenger, Norman Berenson, 26, San Francisco. Both Roussey and Berenson were treated at a San Francisco hospital.

A joyride in a "borrowed" automobile resulted in a boy and girl being taken to a San Francisco hospital and the driver's arrest by highway patrolmen on charges of illegal possession and reckless driving.

'JOYRIDE' RESULTS

Irene Lynch, 17, the girl, suffered a broken leg, and Alfred Musumeci, 18, the boy, a possible skull fracture. The driver, Stanley Spingola, 18, was in the county jail. A fourth member of the party, Mateo Cirmelli, 19, was held for questioning and later released. He was unhurt. All are from San Francisco.

The car plunged off a 30-foot embankment near Colma late Saturday. Donald Steele of San Francisco reported that it was his automobile, which had been taken without his permission.

3-WAY CRASH

A three-way Sunday night collision on the Bayshore just south of the San Francisco county line sent Rocco Basile, 45, San Francisco, with minor injuries to a San Francisco hospital.

Edwin Hirt, 42, Petaluma, who gave his occupation as an investigator, was being held in the county jail today on charges of drunken driving preferred by local police after a minor collision in-

CENTRAL SCHOOL CITY HALL PLAN DEFEATED BY COUNCIL

Eva-Christensen Recommendation Loses Out In 4-3 Vote on Long Pending Issue

The Central School building on Broadway, formerly Redwood City's high school, will not become the city hall.

This was decided Monday night by a 4 to 3 vote of the city council as they voted upon a committee recommendation that steps be taken to acquire the property for a city hall.

Councilman James M. Eva, who with Councilman Louis C. Christensen, made a detailed study of the possibility of buying the grammar school site and exchanging part payment for the structure two residential district locations for proposed new elementary schools, made a strong plea for the plan to revamp the building into a city hall, at an estimated cost of $100,000.

NEW BUILDING CHEAPER

He won support from Councilman Evans A. Fletcher. Although Christensen was not present, his vote was counted in favor of Eva's stand, since the recommendation was theirs jointly.

Mayor Paul A. McCarthy and Councilmen George W. McNulty, Robert N. Jones and William Hohn defeated Eva's proposal, which had been seconded by Fletcher.

City Manager Charles L. Dirmitt, and City Clerk B. E. Myers, speaking as a "taxpayer," both expressed opposition to spending a large sum for a makeshift structure. Both officials said they believed that for $85,000 a new and more suitable city hall could be built on city land.

Mayor McCarthy, as another reason for his opposition, said that the bond issue necessary to raise the approximately $100,000 needed to carry out the plan would impair the chances of any bond issue by which the city might seek to take over its electric utility, which he said could be run at a profit, as has been the city water department.

DISLIKE 'MAKESHIFT'

The mayor agreed, too, that it was inadvisable to incur a large debt for a makeshift structure. In this view he won support from Councilman Hohn.

Other objections to use of the school as a city hall were that the building did not have a suitable appearance for a city hall; that location of public buildings on main business streets is inadvisable in that they take up valuable space; and that they take up valuable space.

volving the car of Paul Nelson, St. Paul, Minn. The crash occurred late Saturday on El Camino Real at Redwood avenue.

3 Persons Hurt As Cars Crash North of Here

Three persons were hurt Tuesday morning when two automobiles, one of them filled with navy men, collided head-on today on the Bayshore highway one mile south of Ralston boulevard, Belmont, highway patrolmen reported.

Injured were Mrs. Gustine Mills, 33, riding with her husband, James Furman Mills, 33, of Agnew, and Robert McKay, 24, and Corp. Robert Scott, U. S. Navy, both of San Francisco, riding with Frank Therreault, 23, also of San Francisco.

Mills was cited by Highway Patrolmen Chester Kreiss and Manfred Walzberg for reckless driving with injury. He was not held.

Mrs. Mills was taken to Palo Alto Hospital with severe cuts on the right knee and a sprained back, while McKay and Corporal Scott were treated at Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo for minor head injuries.

Also in Therreault's car, traveling north, were George Letts, of the U.S.N. ship New Mexico; John Greenwood, San Francisco sailor; Delmar S. Miller of the U. S. Navy, San Francisco, and Jack Reynolds, San Francisco. None was hurt.

The accident occurred shortly before 4 o'clock. Both cars were badly damaged.

DIANA ALVIS DIES

Little Diana Alvis, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alvis of 102 Redwood avenue, died at a San Mateo Hospital at 7 p.m. Monday after being stricken suddenly Saturday afternoon. She is survived by, besides her parents, three brothers, Donald and Floyd of Redwood City, and Albert, of San Francisco.

FIREMEN ASK EXEMPTION

A tax exemption of $1000 for volunteer members of the Associated Firemen of San Mateo county has been asked of the board of supervisors in a letter signed by N. R. Brown, secretary. A resolution was passed by the firemen last week in favor of the action, the letter stated.

GENE WHITTON, ANN WHITE GIVEN PORT FESTIVAL PAGEANT LEADS

Fred W. Carlisle, author and producer of the Redwood City Harbor Opening Festival Pageant to be given September 10 and 11, has announced selection of two singing leads in his cast.

They are Gene Whitton, who will play King Neptune, and Ann White, to take the role of Seylla in the song-drama which will draw its theme from mythology.

Both stars are leaders with the Palo Alto Light Opera Association and have appeared in Stanford University productions.

Music for the pageant will be in charge of Mrs. Mae Walford of Redwood City, Carlisle also disclosed, while Dorothy Roberts of Redwood City will train 14 of the many dancing girls.

The show will be staged on the Sequoia high school athletic field, where a stage and an elaborate lighting system will be installed. The football bleachers, seating 3000 people, will be used. Tickets are expected to go on sale shortly.

The production will depict many of the notable events of maritime history, building them around the story of what the oceans of the earth have meant to mankind's progress. It is planned to last for more than an hour.
